BOROUGH OF LYDD

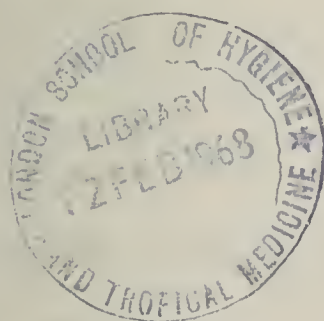

ANNUAL REPORTS OF MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH

AND

PUBLIC HEALTH INSPECTOR

FOR THE YEAR

1966

ANNUAL REPORTS OF THE MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH AND PUBLIC HEALTH INSPECTOR FOR THE YEAR 1966.

Mr. Mayor, Alderman and Councillors,

I have the honour to present to you my Annual Report for the year 1966.

Population

The Registrar General's estimate of the mid-year Home Population was 4,320 which was an increase of 330 over that of the previous year.

Live Births and Birth Rate

The number of live births was 75 (40 M. 35 F.) i.e. 18 less than in the previous year, and the crude birth rate was accordingly 15.13 after adjustment by the Registrar General's Comparability Factor which is computed from a population standardised for age and sex distribution, the rate becomes 24.1 and was appreciably higher than that of 17.7 for England and Wales.

Stillbirths and Rate

There were no stillbirths registered during the year. The rate for England and Wales was 15.4

Infantile Deaths

There was one infant death registered during the year due to:-

Cardiac Failure	}	- 4 days.
Ventricular Septal
defect

and the infantile mortality rate was 13.33. However, these figures are too small for valid statistical comparison.

Maternal Deaths and Mortality Rate

This rate was nil as there was no maternal deaths which is a reflection of the high standard of modern obstetric practice.

Total Deaths and Death Rate

The total number of deaths from all causes was 31 (21 M. 10 F.) and the crude death rate was accordingly 10.9 which, after adjustment by the Registrar General's Comparability Factor, as for births, becomes 7.31 and was lower than that of 11.7 for England and Wales.

The chief group cause of deaths was those from natural causes amongst the aged, namely Heart and Circulatory Diseases and Vascular lesions of the Nervous System; of those there were 15.

Disease of the Coronary Artery of the Heart was the cause of 8 of those deaths. The deaths were in the following age-groups: 1 between 35 - 44; 1 between 45 - 54; 4 between 65 - 74; and 2 over 75 years. The causation is still obscure, but the disease is a common cause of death in old age.

Cancer, as invariably in previous years, was the cause of 11 deaths in the following age groups: 1 between 15 - 24; 2 between 45 - 54; 4 between 55 - 64; 1 between 65 - 74, and 1 over 75 years.

Cancer of the Lung was the cause of 4 deaths, 3 between 55 - 64 and 1 over 75 years. There was one in the previous year.

Cancer of the Breast was also the cause of 2 deaths, 1 between 55 - 64 and 1 over 75 years. Having regard to the insidious nature of the disease, it is common experience that these patients seek medical advice too late, although the site of the breast allows of relatively easy diagnosis.

Pneumonia was the cause of 1 death in the age-group over 75 years. The illness is commonly the terminal cause of death amongst the aged.

The other causes of death were miscellaneous and there was no unusual mortality. There was no death from Infectious Disease.

The Infectious Diseases

Measles

102 cases were notified. There were no deaths, or serious complications. As stated in previous reports, this Infectious Disease should not now be statutorily notifiable, by reason of the inconvenience to Practitioners, to administrative staff and also of the unnecessary expenditure involved.

Acute Primary Pneumonia

Only one case was notified, and there was one death in the age-group over 75 years - secondary Pneumonias are not notifiable, but are a common terminal cause of death amongst the aged.

Dysentery (Shigella Sonnei)

One case was notified. This infection of the bowel is common due to a high carrier rate and to the lack of personal hygiene; in other words neglect to wash the hands after toilet and before meals.

Tuberculosis

It is noteworthy to record that no new cases of Respiratory or Non-Respiratory Tuberculosis were notified.

In conclusion, I would state that the Public Health of the Borough was satisfactory throughout the year and I would take this opportunity of thanking you for your support of and interest in the Department and also the staff for their co-operation and efficient service.

I am,

Your obedient Servant,

J. MARSHALL M.B., Ch.B., D.P.H.

STATISTICAL AND SOCIAL CONDITIONS OF THE AREA
FOR 1966

Area: 11,932 acres

Registrar-General's Estimate of the Resident Population	4,230
Number of Inhabited Houses according to the Rate Book (excluding business/dwelling houses)	1,479
Rateable Value as at 1st April 1966	£167,947
Sum represented by a Penny Rate	Actual - 1966/67 £758. 16. 0d.

SOCIAL CONDITIONS

The ancient town of Lydd is situated in the extreme south-east corner of Kent, part of its western boundary coinciding with the boundary between Kent and Sussex. The Borough of Lydd, the most extensive borough in the County, comprises the old town of Lydd, together with the coastal areas of Dungeness, Lydd-on-Sea and Greatstone (part). Its 12,000 acres occupy the majority of the well-known foreland of Dungeness. The area is very flat, and visibility is good. Within the boundaries are to be found the best and the poorest of soil formations - rich alluvium providing fattening pastures for at least ten sheep per acre, and vast areas of shingle which, although a very poor 'soil' do nevertheless support some forms of hardy plant life.

The Borough is predominantly agricultural in character, being chiefly concerned in sheep and cattle raising and arable farming. There are a number of extensive beach quarrying and crushing plants within the district. The War Department own approximately one-sixth of the Borough, from the west end of High Street down to the sea. Within it are Lee, Metford and Clarke Camps and extensive anti-tank, mortar, rifle and machine gun ranges. Lydd (Ferryfield) Airport is situated one and a half miles from the centre of the town and many thousands of passengers and cars, in addition to large quantities of freight, are transported to and from the the Continent.

The Borough has $9\frac{1}{2}$ miles of coastline, and of the coastal districts, Dungeness is largely devoted to the fishing industry, and Greatstone, where there is a large Holiday Camp, and Lydd-on-Sea, cater chiefly for the holiday-makers. Development for residential and holiday purposes continues with no sign of abatement in the last-mentioned two areas. A total of 44 private dwellings were completed during the year.

During the year, the Borough Council's Phase XII Housing Programme comprising 80 new dwellings at their new estate, The Derings, was completed. In accordance with an agreement made with Atomic Power Constructors, Ltd., the main contractors for the construction of Dungeness 'B' Nuclear Power Station, 20 of these houses were let to 'key workers' employed by that Company, and subsequently a further two houses were similarly let to the staff of that Company.

By December 31st 1966, the Borough Council had provided 332 permanent dwellings, as follows:-

	Houses			2-storey flats	Old persons b'lovs		Total
	4-bed	3-bed	2-bed	2-bed	2-bed	1-bed
Pre-war period	-	26	-	-	6	-	32
Post-war period	10	198	48	28	-	16	300
Totals	10	224	48	28	6	16	332

In addition, the Borough Council own a further six dwellings not originally provided by them.

Work on the construction of Dungeness 'B' Nuclear Power Station, which commenced in October 1965, continued throughout the year. This Station is due for completion in 1970, when the combined output of the 'A' and 'B' Stations will be in excess of 1,700,000 kilowatts.

The interchange of electric power between this country and France via the 400 Kv supergrid from Canterbury, the Converter Station near Pigwell, Lydd, and the Cross-Channel Cable, continued during the year.

During the year, further progress was made in connection with the proposed main drainage scheme for the Lydd Town Area. The Outline Scheme having been approved by the Minister of Housing and Local Government early in 1965, the Consulting Engineers proceeded with the preparation of the detailed scheme, ready for invitation of tenders in 1967.

Community life in the Borough continued to be very much in evidence, local organisations covering a wide range of interests, including an Angling Club, Ancient Order of Foresters, Badminton Club, Boy Scouts, British Legion (Men's and Women's Branches), Brownies, Football Club, Girl Guides, Wildflowers Society, Methodist Youth Club, Methodist Women's Guild, Mothers Union, Oddfellows, Parents and Teachers Association, R.A.O.B., Royal Naval Association, St. John Ambulance Brigade, Seniors Club, Small Bore Rifle Club, Table Tennis Club, Women's Institute, War Memorial Institute Club, Dungeness Sports and Social Club. The Clubs and Societies again combined their efforts in organising the now well-known "Lydd Club Day" on the third Saturday in June.

There was virtually no unemployment in the Borough, and social conditions were generally satisfactory.
